BRITAIN BANS TRAVEL TOWARD EIRE BORDER

ACTION TAKEN TO BALK AXIS IN IRELAND

Order Barring Travel Follows Refusal of Belfast to Oust Axis Diplomats From Country

COMMENT IS TEMPERATE

By WILLIAM SMITH WHITE

London, March 13—(AP)

The outright closing of northern Ireland's border with Eire to give full effect to the suspension of travel between the islands of Britain and Ireland was a near prospect today.

All reports from Belfast, northern Ireland, said this step—which the British government could order—was regarded as inevitable as the Allies moved with hard realism to end the alleged use of neutral Eire as an Axis spy base.

Certain other steps, of a nature not now to be disclosed, may also be taken.

All travel except in cases of greatest urgency was suspended between Britain and Ireland, whether northern Ireland or Eire, by a British home office order last night two days after Eire's Prime Minister Eamon De Valera had announced his refusal to accede to a United States request that German and Japanese diplomatic offices in the country be closed.

The order resulted from an urgent request by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied invasion commander, who was said to have information that Axis representatives in Eire constituted a serious menace to military security.

The Irish mail train to Holyhead—where it connects with the boat to Kingston near Dublin—left London this morning two-thirds empty.

Irishmen on the train—mainly laborers—were strongly against De Valera.

On both sides public comment was temperate.

It was generally believed in London that the travel ban was only the beginning of British and United States measures to provide strict military security, and The Associated Press correspondent in Dublin said "everyone is asking 'What will happen next?'"

Two possibilities stood out—closing of the Eire-Northern Ireland (Ulster) frontier and curtailment of the shipments of wheat, gasoline and coal which Eire imports from Britain and the United States.

The Daily Mail, Daily Express and other London newspapers all strongly emphasized the likelihood of restrictions on such Eire imports despite statements from both London and Washington of official quarters that economic sanctions were not proposed.

Although the Home Office order did not affect the customary easy communication between Eire and northern Ireland, the London Daily Herald said police had instituted a drastic cut-back among the 30,000 Eire workers who have obtained resident permits in northern Ireland.

GO FOR EXAMS

Local Board No. 2 sent a group of 144 men from Warren county to Eire on Saturday for physical examination for the armed forces. Beginning tomorrow groups leave here each morning through Friday until 114 have reported for the army and navy.

Pope Appeals to Allied and Axis Leaders to Save Rome

London, March 13—(AP)—Pope Pius XII, speaking at St. Peter's square and to radio listeners around the world, appealed to Allied and German leaders yesterday to spare Rome and to strive for a "peace of liberation."

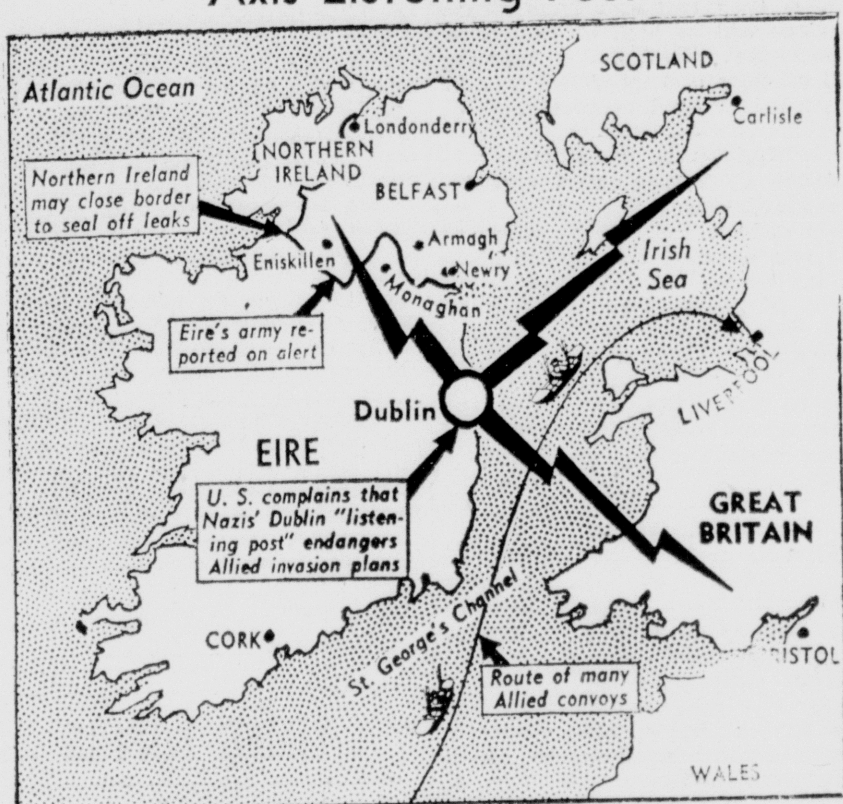

Speaking on the fifth anniversary of his coronation, the pontiff received a tremendous ovation from the throng which had been assembling for hours before he appeared on the balcony.

He urged rather that leaders of the belligerent nations work for a peace "which will free mankind from all internal and external violence so that they may be remembered in benediction and not in malediction for centuries on the face of the earth."

The Pope described the plight of Rome, which is now occupied by the Germans and toward which the battle lines have been creeping, as "especially grave," and he appealed to "all those who have means to help, either with material contributions, or with the help of active work, not to deny their efficacious support and assistance."

The bells of Rome's hundreds of churches pealed for five minutes before the Pope spoke.

Axis Listening Post

Strategic position of Dublin as an Axis "listening post" is set forth above. The Irish capital is the focus of strained U. S.-Eire relations due to Prime Minister De Valera's refusal of an American request to oust enemy agents.

Blood Bank Committee Meets Emergency Request for Visit

Ably meeting an emergency request, the Blood Bank Committee of the Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross, scheduled 190 donors for today's visit of the Buffalo Mobile Unit and have a like number scheduled for tomorrow.

The sudden action was precipitated when, on Friday afternoon, Buffalo called and asked if they could work in Warren today and tomorrow, which days were one week ahead of their regularly scheduled visit. The error in scheduling would have resulted in the loss of two days' collection of valuable plasma and meant that Warren would have had no appointment this month.

Chairman M. G. Keller, of the local committee, immediately called Mrs. Harold Banghart and passed the entire problem to her able committee who have been scheduling donors for each month's visit of the Blood Bank. Mrs. Banghart replied they could certainly let the Mobile Unit come here Tuesday and partially ease the situation. Later she called to tell Mr. Keller that her committee would undertake to see that both days were taken care of locally.

Enlisting helpers to make phone calls, Mrs. Banghart and her committee worked steadily until 11:00 P. M. Friday calling those donors who had originally been scheduled to give on Monday, March 20. They continued their work into Saturday and Sunday and finally succeeded in lining up donors for Tuesday. Thus the Blood Bank was able to work here today and (From Page Two)

Barkley Pays Visit To President Today

Washington, March 13—(AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Barkley saw President Roosevelt today for the first time since his attack on the president's tax bill veto, and he reported that "you wouldn't have known anything had ever happened—if it did."

Barkley went to the White House with Vice President Wallace, Speaker Rayburn and House Majority Leader McCormack for the regular Monday morning legislative conference, and the senator said it was "just like all other conferences."

Barkley reported it was a most agreeable session which did not go very deeply into legislative issues.

But to a question whether there was a discussion of the tax bill issue, the senator said that it wasn't even mentioned.

Coal Reserves Are Reaching Low Ebb

Washington, March 13—(AP)—The War Manpower Commission, reporting that most coal dealers will have only 10 to 12 days' supply of anthracite on hand April 1, is appealing for "top speed" production during the normally slack seasons of spring and summer.

Coal reserves above ground are so small, WMC said in a statement, that any delay in moving shipments from the mines "could be disastrous."

The Solid Fuels Administration reported, meanwhile, that the hard coal miners dug an average of 50,000 tons each of the four Sunday days they worked last month, boosting February production to 5,606,000 tons.

Bituminous coal production declined, however, to 12,050,000 tons for the week ended March 4, 525,000 tons below the previous week.

Hearing Open On Violation Of Hatch Act

Harrisburg, March 13—(AP)—The U. S. Civil Service Commission charged today that "a scheme" was initiated in the State Health Department in 1942 to secure political contributions in violation of the federal Hatch act which forbids use of official authority in political activity.

L. V. Meloy, counsel for the commission at the start of a hearing in charge against Secretary A. H. Stewart and a dozen other officials and employees of the state health department, said in an opening statement:

"The government expects to show that since January 1, 1942, a scheme was planned and initiated in the Health Department to secure political contributions which grew out of a meeting held in Republican headquarters at which Dr. Stewart and heads of the departments under him were present."

Counsel for Dr. Stewart and others named in the citation withheld an opening statement. By agreement of counsel, a citation against Bonnie Powell, a clerk, was dismissed. She has been in the armed forces since January 1.

U. S. AIRMEN DESTROY 26 JAP PLANES

Remnants of Enemy's Once-Powerful Force Eliminated in 129-Ton Strike at Wewak

WOTHO ATOLL TAKEN

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ

Associated Press War Editor

Twenty-six Japanese planes, remnants of the enemy's once-powerful air force in the southwest Pacific, were destroyed by U. S. Fifth air force airmen during a 120-ton strike at Wewak, main Japanese base on New Guinea, Gen. Douglas MacArthur communique today.

In the central Pacific, marines landed without opposition on Wotho atoll, 67 miles northwest of Kwajalein in the Marshall Islands, giving the Allies a straight string of islands extending from Majuro in the eastern Marshalls through Kwajalein and Wotho to Eniwetok in the west. The line points straight toward Tokyo.

Other Marines, fighting on Williams peninsula in New Britain, have consolidated their position around captured Tasea, and its emergency landing field, while Allied forces on Bougainville to the east have driven Japanese back from minor gains won during a violent eruption of heavy fighting on the Empress Augusta Bay battlefield.

Rabaul, New Britain, was hit with 91 tons of explosives, other planes supported ground operations on Los Negros island in the Admiralties and in the central Pacific, American planes raided four undesignated atolls in the eastern Marshalls Friday.

On the Arakan front in Burma, British troops captured Buthe-daung, Japanese defense base 55 miles north of Akyab, while American and Chinese troops smashed two miles farther down the Hukawng valley to within 11 miles of its southern end.

Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, directing the Hukawng valley drive, said "although I have often been wrong, I am willing to hazard the guess that the entire Hukawng valley will soon be ours."

Pucisce Port Is Captured By Partisans

London, March 13—(AP)—Yugoslav partisans commanded by a United States officer have captured the port of Pucisce on the northeast corner of Brac island off the Dalmatian coast, Marshal Tito's (Josip Broz) headquarters announced today.

Brac, a rugged 152 square-mile island, lies 10 miles southeast of the port of Split and has been used in the past as a submarine base. The action, announced in the war bulletin broadcast by the free Yugoslav radio, again turned the spotlight on the Dalmatian islands.

Allied headquarters in Italy announced that British destroyers had bombed German-held Korula island two days in a row last week and today's Allied communique told of the sinking of an enemy coastal vessel and the capture of a number of German prisoners March 10 in Neretva channel, between Korcula and Lissa.

The Yugoslav communique said that outnumbered partisans were locked in battle with the Germans on Hvar island, another of the group.

SEN. BARKLEY SPEAKS TO DAPPER DAN CLUB

Pittsburgh, March 13—(AP)—All nations must make an organized effort to preserve peace in the world after this war, and a better way must be found to distribute the bounties of all nations to all parts of the world as a means of helping to maintain peace, in the opinion of Senator Alben Barkley, (D-Ky.), majority leader of the senate.

Senator Barkley, speaking at the annual Dapper Dan Club banquet here last night, avoided political arguments and stressed action necessary in the post-war era to keep the nation, and the world, on an even economic keel.

Local Man Hit By Truck Dies Of His Injuries

Services in Memory of George J. Zobrest to Be Held Wednesday A. M.

LEAVES LARGE FAMILY

Services in memory of George J. Zobrest, 33, who died in the Warren General hospital at 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning from internal injuries sustained when he was struck by a truck operated by Henry Sorber, Jr., Wilkes-Barre, and owned by the Sardon Construction Co., of Kingston, Pa., while he was helping to change a tire on a coach at Irvine, on U. S. Route 6, a few hours before, will be held from Holy Redeemer church Wednesday morning at nine o'clock. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. The parish rosary will be recited Tuesday evening at the home 16 Parker street, at eight o'clock.

The accident occurred Sunday morning about 12:30 o'clock when Mr. Zobrest and two friends Earl Lyle, 5 Plum street, and William Chonberg, Canton street, were enroute toward Warren. According to the information given a member of the local barracks of the State Police and Coroner Ed Lowrey, the left rear tire had a blow out just as they were approaching the curve leading to the Pennsylvania railroad crossing at Irvine. They stopped immediately to replace it with a spare. Lyle and Chonberg are said to have been back of the car and Zobrest was in a squatted position between the rear of the machine and the center of the 18-foot highway. The small truck driven by Sorber, enroute west, rounded the curve and in the left rear tire had a blow out just as they were approaching the curve leading to the Pennsylvania railroad crossing at Irvine. Plans Made For Opening Of '44 Fire Prevention Program

Announcement of the opening of the 1944 Wartime Forest Fire Prevention Program in the 14 northeastern states was made here today by U. S. Regional Forester R. M. Evans. The program is a joint one between the Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Association of State Foresters. It will be participated in by State Foresters and State Fire Wardens in the states from Maine to Kentucky as well as by federal foresters.

Eastern and south central states open the unfortunate parade of forest fire danger seasons across the nation each spring. Mr. Evans states. Recalling that 9 out of every 10 forest fires are man caused, most forest and brush fires could be prevented, he said. This is particularly true, as recent studies show that it is not criminals or saboteurs who cause most of the forest fire damage, but rather the average law-abiding but careless American citizens.

With weather conditions unusually dry in many localities, and with great quantities of slash and lots of men in the woods trying to catch up on America's war needs for lumber and pulpwood, the coming of this spring forbodes a period of high forest fire hazard in the northeast that will not lessen until the woods turn green, the forester said.

In an average year, Evans pointed out, more than 210,000 forest and brush fires occur, burning over an area almost as large as New York State and killing enough timber to build 25,000 five-room houses. We cannot stand this loss, and this year, particularly, we cannot stand the drain of 1,000,000 man-days of labor from farms and factories to stop fires that were started by a carelessly tossed match, a lighted cigarette, a neglected warming fire or indifferent brush burning and such causes.

This year's forest fire prevention program will be geared to the slogan "Greater Danver Than Ever". The National Campaign has been organized and timed so that its publicized appeal will be concentrated in each forest region during that particular section's worst fire danger period. For the eastern and south central states this period generally extends through March and April and part of May. Another high hazard period occurs between leaf fall and the coming of snow in the fall.

Through newspapers, education in the schools, advertising, posters, radio and other mediums, the 1944 program will appeal to every loyal American to remember—and to ask his friends to remember—the fire prevention rules:

- (1) Crush out cigarettes, cigars, and pipe ashes.
- (2) Break matches in two; then pinch them "til dead".
- (3) Drown campfires; then stir and add more water.
- (4) Ask about the law—and a permit—if you must burn brush or debris.
- (5) Always be careful; help, always, to prevent forest fires.

The emphasis the Navy is placing on high gunnery marksmanship is shown by the fact that at one of its ranges in the south, more than 2,250,000 shells of one type were fired by the students in the first seven months of operation.

LETTER RECEIVED

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Erickson, of Dulce Center have received a letter from their daughter Miss Signe Erickson one of American Baptist Missionaries who was serving in the Philippine Islands where war broke out. The letter was in her own handwriting and was written in May 1943 and smuggled out of the island post. It was the first communication the family has had with its daughter since Pearl Harbor. She states that she is well and is still carrying on her missionary work in spite of all obstacles. Miss Erickson is well known in this vicinity as her parents formerly resided at Akeley and she taught school in the Beatty school for some time. She is also a member of the Calvary Baptist church.

Indian Goes On Warpath In Drug Store

One of the Indian braves who resides in this city applied a collection of nose paint Saturday night and entering one of the city drug stores went on the war path. San feathers, moccasins or beads he nevertheless went into his dance and soon had the pill roller wondering if he were about to be scalped, tortured just a witness to a scene akin to Custer's last stand. So forming himself into a hollow square he called the cops and they they dashing to the rescue in their trusty Chevrolet. When they arrived the injun emerged from his ambush behind a batch of flat irons, chipless, water glasses, stuffed teddy bears and V-mail stationery and surrendered. And another redskin hit the dust and Sunday was a contrite soul as calm and placid as a March day when he faced Magistrate Greenlund.

Another call took the boys to the home of a fellow who had drunk not wisely but too well. His wife had the coppers tucked her erring spouse into bed and he fell into the arms of Morpheus and soon his listy snores were sweet music to his family and to the obliging police.

A hunt for a couple of trailers that have disappeared from the rear of a West End service station is on. It was reported that one of the trailers had a box mounted upon it and another was composed of a chassis. As yet—no trails that would lead to the trailers.

And these little chores combined with the twisting of a few door-knobs, clicking of locks for folks who had forgotten to lock up their business places, escorting a few of the hired help of the city to their homes kept the coppers busy and in their accustomed good humor as they gave service with a smile.

DETAIL FOR TODAY

Rear Rank Rudy

A REAR RANK RUDY is a soldier who has a complex against being a ring-leader or anything resembling it. He's an introvert of the first water and continually shies away from the limelight. Always in fear of being in the first rank of a formation and under the surveillance of the man in charge, he waits till the formation is almost intact, then slips into the rear rank like a frightened chipmunk. He can always be found in the last platoon, last rank or at the tail end of a line. When the war is over REAR RANK RUDY likely will be the first to shed his G. I.'s and get back into the good old blue serge.

4-H ON THE HOME FRONT

Now would be a good time for a lot of folks to get their minds off pleasure jaunts, movies, excessive spending, croon singers, etc., and take a look at the 4-H boys and girls, in the county and nation generally, 2,000,000 strong.

The wartime increase in juvenile delinquency is admittedly serious, but it is possible that we have let ourselves get into too much of a tongue-clucking mood because of it. So for once let's forget the zoot-suiters, victory girls and bobby-soxers.

This year, with draft deferments for agricultural workers tightening up, they are planning an even bigger program than last year's. And last year they did a remarkable job. Among other things they produced 30,000,000 bushels of vegetables, raised 11,000,000 chickens and almost 7,000,000 head of livestock, canned 25,000,000 jars of food and worked 13,000,000 hours outside of their own 4-H projects to relieve the farm labor shortage. In addition they found time to collect millions of tons of scrap, and to buy and sell $30,000,000 worth of War Bonds.

As pertinent a question as "What shall we do about our children?" is "What would we do without them?"

ANOTHER BAD GUESS

The French underground reports that old Marshal Petain hopes to jump on the Allied band wagon, when the invasion comes, by setting up a last-minute democratic constitutional government.

This, if we recall correctly, is the same Petain who, despite the stubborn defense of Verdun, was sure that the Boche would win World War I; the same Petain who refused to believe that another war threatened; who was sure England would fall; who thought Hitler would treat him honorably; that France would embrace his weak-kneed brand of Fascism; that both the Germans on his doorstep and the Americans in North Africa could be successfully defied.

If the aged marshal puts faith in this contemplated eleventh-hour gesture, he will probably find once again he has his money on the wrong horse.

Another "citation" for the women in charge of plans for the visit of the Blood Bank to Warren. Informed unexpectedly Friday afternoon that the Bank would be here today and tomorrow, instead of next Monday and Tuesday, the women busied themselves Saturday by contacting donors by phone. Result: Over 190 scheduled for today and about as many more tomorrow. Incidentally, those listed for Tuesday are reminded to be sure and be on hand.

London's prompt imposition of severe travel restrictions between Britain and South Ireland was a fully anticipated corollary to Eire's refusal to grant America's request that German and Japanese diplomatic and consular representatives be expelled. It develops a tense diplomatic situation involving a vital Allied maneuver upon which may hinge the success of the coming invasion of Europe.

Over 100,000 miners are on strike in England. There are some American customs the British really shouldn't adopt.

FOLLOWING JESUS

Text: Matt. 16:24—"If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."

During these Lenten days our minds naturally revert to the few weeks preceding the crucifixion. At the time this text was spoken Jesus was already under the shadow of the cross. Simon Peter, as spokesman for the disciples, had made his great confession, "Thou art the Christ, the son of the living God."

The confession Jesus seems to have paved the way for Jesus to inform His disciples of the impending sufferings through which He would, so soon, pass. They had recognized Him as the suffering Christ. This, too, must be understood, if they were to be true followers. A half Christ would be next to no Christ. He must be comprehended as the whole or well rounded Christ. In His effort, to so make them understand, He was leading up to the terse words of the text—"If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."

This would be, and still is, the test of true discipleship. It is an easy matter to go halfway with our Lord, but to go the entire way is a different story. It is great to know Him, to be comforted by Him and to feel the security which He gives, but it is greater still to be able to go with Him and share His joys, His sorrows and heartaches, and to have a part in His sufferings. The apostle Paul had it right when he said, "That I may know him, and the power of resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death."

This may seem a rigid way, and it is, but it must be remembered, "The way of the cross leads home." Then, take up thy cross and follow Him.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — The much-mourned death of Sen. Charles L. McNary of Oregon brings up another chapter in Republican politics which may have far-reaching effects within the party as well as in the coming national election.

It is an interesting chapter, too, for out of it may come a determination of just what trend the GOP will take in the upper Chamber from here on. This will be decided shortly when McNary's successor as minority leader is named.

There are three possibilities: (1) Selection of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio... at this writing, I think this most likely. (2) Designation of Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan; (3) or the continuation in office of the present acting minority leader, Sen. Wallace H. White of Maine.

To appreciate these candidates it's necessary first to understand McNary and the technique he used in guiding the destinies of the party on the Senate floor and in the all-important committees, where most political battles are at least blueprinted.

McNary was for the most part a mild-mannered man. I have never heard him take the floor to rave and rant over any piece of legislation. In a personal sense (as well as political) he was a conservative. Some young party liberals in the Senate were impatient with him. They wanted a more vigorous prosecution of a more liberal legislative program, although there never was any question of McNary's parliamentary adroitness or his ability to hold his own against Democratic maneuvering.

IT'S LIKELY that either Taft or Vandenberg would be acceptable to what the boys on the hill refer to as the party's "young Turks" in the Senate. Vandenberg was one when he was younger. And there has never been any doubt about Taft's vigor on the floor.

But Taft has been referred to as the great compromiser. This doesn't mean that he gives ground, but that his technique is to cause enough furore to go the opposition in a jither and then slip in with a compromise that will at least make some headway for his party and his own program. Vandenberg, on the other hand, isn't inclined to compromise, once he gets his hand set. Some observers think he might be a less clever manipulator on the Senate floor, although some declare he can have the job if he wants it.

THERE is one other point to be considered, and it's an important one. Vandenberg is an avowed MacArthur-for-President man, while Taft is Bricker's No. 1 backer. The additional prestige either would gain by elevation to floor leader in the Senate could have considerable effect on the party's convention decisions.

There has been no complaint against Sen. White. New to the job and proceeding cautiously, he has worn well under the strain of several of the biggest legislative battles in the Senate in months. He is, however, more in the McNary tradition than either of the other two.

Victory Garden Can Be Beautiful and Productive

An Attractive, Well Designed Vegetable Garden.

A Victory Garden may easily be made a beautiful feature of the home grounds. Many large private estates offer object lessons for the owners of smaller grounds, in the way they make vegetable gardens attractive.

Such gardens are usually surrounded by well marked boundaries of plants, or fencing; and they are divided by paths which make an interesting pattern, and give access to the garden area. Paths may be bordered with flowers, or with some of the perennial vegetables, such as chives and rhubarb.

Latticees to surround the garden are easily made, the lumber of the right size being on sale by many dealers, or it can be cut to any desired measurement. Lattice painted green and supporting climbing beans or other vines offers one of the finest garden boundaries.

Rustic fences from branches cut from forest trees which have been felled furnish another attractive feature. The rustic trellis for grapes, and on smaller scale for tall peas, pole beans and cucumbers is also extensively used.

Trellises for peas are easily and neatly made at small expense so that they become an attractive feature of the garden and much more pleasing to the eye than brush or chicken wire so often used. Wire is too often put up so that it presents various bulges and curves instead of being tightly stretched. It is a simple matter to frame it attractively and to put down firm posts so that it may be stretched and not be in danger of being dragged over by the weight of vines, particularly after a rain.

In many school gardens where the idea of beauty in the vegetable garden is inculcated, a sundial or bird bath is used as a central feature of the vegetable garden. This is an excellent device to add ornamental qualities, and a small bed of flowers about it will make it a feature that redeems the entire vegetable garden from a commonplace appearance.

If the rear fence which bounds the garden happens to be of plain boards it can be easily trimmed with latticework or fitted with wires for vines so that by midsummer it will be an ornamental feature of the garden.

NATIONAL WAR FUND $200,000,000

MARCH 1944

That We Might Keep Faith With Them....

Warren Co. Boys in Service--

Special: More than 4,000 boys and men from Warren Co. have entered the service through volunteer channels or selective service since the summer of 1941.

Today they are scattered all over the globe and on ships sailing the seven seas! India, Iceland, Italy, Sicily, Sarawak, Scotland, Africa, Russia, Alaska... in planes high in the stratosphere and in submarine service deep under the ocean waves.

Are we proud of them? Do we write cheery letters? Do we donate our blood at the local blood bank? Sure we do... and why not! Can we measure, by any visible standards, the service they are giving us? Can we ever repay them for their courage, their devotion to duty, for their very lives? Their one friend away from home is the American Red Cross. In the heat of battle, in the all too few hours or days of leisure they enjoy now and then behind the fighting front the Red Cross stands as a symbol of service. As real flesh and blood in the form of Red Cross Field Directors, ready to aid and advise them, to contact their families, to bring home ties closer. Can you say to yourself, "What have I done today that makes me worthy that one of these boys should die for me tonight?"

Let's try and make ourselves more worthy of their sacrifices.

Washington, D. C.--

A War Fund of $200,000,000 will be asked of the American public this month to finance the wartime operation of the American Red Cross. The goal for the 3rd Red Cross War Fund campaign was set after the Central Committee reviewed budget estimates for the year beginning March 1, 1944. Of this sum $140,000,000 will be required by the national organization to finance its international activities. Over 85% will be spent directly for Red Cross services to our men in the fighting services. The remainder of the national goal represents the amounts required by the 375 chapters for work in their local communities.

"While our 1944 objective is the largest campaign goal in Red Cross history," said Norman H. Davis, Chairman of the National War Fund, "it represents the minimum amount required to meet constantly increasing demands from the Army and Navy for Red Cross services. The magnitude of our job is greater than ever before. The American people have never failed to respond generously to an appeal from the Red Cross."

Give Generously!

Warren County Quota $44,200

Over 630 workers will set out on March 13th to raise the quota assigned Warren County. It can and will be raised if no one shirks his or her responsibility. Let's all back our 4,000 men from Warren Co. who are out in front giving all they have for us.

From the Foreign Front--

Allied Force Hdq., North Africa -- Dirty bags have been distributed in hospitals, hospital trains and receiving centers to the tune of 93,000.

Alcan Highway -- Major P. W. Holmes, Chief of Special Services, Northwest Service Command along the 1,630 mile Alcan Highway praised as "outstanding" the work of the Red Cross personnel among his command.

Naples, Italy -- An American Red Cross girl, Lois N. Herney, who has been distributing doughnuts and coffee to combat units, was cited by Major Roy A. Murray, of an American Ranger Bn. for her coolness under fire and for her excellent morale at all times.

Cape Gloucester, New Britain -- Less than an hour after the landing of the Marines at this point two American Red Cross Field men reached the shores of that forward post loaded with cigarettes and supplies for the combat troops.

London, Eng. -- When a canvass is made on the effectiveness of U. S. civilian agencies in this theatre of war, common consent puts the American Red Cross at the top of the list. Employing 20,000 people it operates 137 service clubs and hotels, 80 clubs in American military reservations and 91 mobile canteens.

Murmansk, Russia -- As part of a steady stream of medical supplies and equipment which the American Red Cross is sending to Russia there was sent 12 more ambulances. Two will remain in service here and ten will be forwarded to Moscow.

Timis, Rumania -- 110 men (aviators) who survived the August air raid on the Ploesti oil fields last August are prisoners of war in this out of the way spot. They are housed in two comfortable hotels, supervised by the Rumanian Red Cross and report excellent treatment.

Warren County's Quota, $44,200!

The total War in which we are engaged is a seriously, ugly business! In its lighter and brighter moments the men in the service, both home and abroad and over the seven seas, look to the Red Cross for the little extra comforts and luxuries that your dollars make possible. Millions of patriotic American men, women and children consider it a privilege to give to the Red Cross War Fund. We in Warren County have a big interest in winning this War. More than 4,000 men from the County are out giving all they can for us. Here's your chance to give something in return. What's your interest in their welfare worth? We can't match their sacrifice but we can give to help lighten their load.

College Club members meeting Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William Schellhammer 406 West Third avenue held a short business session and voted $25 to the Red Cross Fund.

Mrs. William Wright presented an interesting display for promotion of newspaper salvage, illustrating with the K-Ration Kit and surtets.

The guest speaker, Miss Eva Corbin, was presented by Mrs. Paul Harrington and gave a fine talk on the special room at South street building. She explained that more than anything else the special pupil requires attention, extra planning and encouragement; that each child has a talent and it is the duty of the special class to bring it out. She said the special teacher is not concerned with what the child cannot do but with what he can do best.

She illustrated her points with some very interesting and extremely fine handwork done by pupils in her classes.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. D. E. Conway and her hostess committee.

VFW Auxiliary Is Busy With Plans

Holding their regular meeting in the post rooms, VFW Auxiliary members made tentative plans for several activities of this month, including the election of officers on March 23, a change in the usual procedure.

Preliminary plans were discussed concerning a post-auxiliary party to be held March 30 in the form of a dinner-dance; also to use proceeds of the March 22 series of games as the annual gift to the Red Cross Fund.

To conclude the evening, refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Clara Schuler, Edith Simonsen, Annabel Pring, Helen Mason and Gladys Eckman.

Never WASTE the flame that will brighten your future

Consumers are urged to practice conservation in the use of GAS—in any and all seasons...

SAVE IT BY

- 1 Refraining from using the gas oven or auxiliary heaters for space heating.
- 2 Heating only rooms which are in daily use.
- 3 Winterizing your home now by insulating and weather-stripping. It not only keeps your home warmer in winter but cooler in summer.
- 4 Cooking whole meals in oven. Cook "one-dish" meals on top burners.
- 5 Never leaving hot water run while washing dishes or hands. Repairing leaky faucets.

The conservation of gas is just as important now as ever. Plants engaged in war work do not let up on production just because the weather is milder. That's why no domestic consumer of gas should waste it, now or at any time. Pennsylvania Gas Company wants you to know that never do they want you to waste gas so that they can sell more. Your interests demand and our policy has always been that your use of gas be as efficient as possible. We urge you to continue the conservation of gas in any and all seasons.

Warren Whips Cranberry 49-29 to Capture Section Title

Covering the Sports Front

—WITH—BOB JOHNSON

Although many look to Farrell next Friday night as Warren's final in the big time, it looks from here that that depends on the Dragons themselves and not that the opposition will be so terrific they can't overcome it.

Time and time again the locals have proven that every member of the team is a scoring threat and if ever they all get together on the one night—look out.

In every victory this season it was always one hot man who deeded the outcome—first McLean, then Eaton, then Finley, then Scalise, then Beyer—who brought in games almost single handed. . . . Chuck Leane, undoubtedly one of Warren High's greatest athletes and a rough gentleman on and off the floor, met Oil City almost alone on a first meeting and counted 26 points for the night, then looked like a bat for four of the most important games of the season, one of which they lost—Bradford and Jamestown.

Joe Scalise sometimes will go like an Oshkosh whiz kid, then look like a clinic baby who won't take shots when he'll forget his one-handed face and toss the hide to the back court when he could just as well let a try.

You'll find Jim Eaton falling for countless miscues with his flailing right in falling all over a player and taking to the showers when they hit him the most. . . . We all know it, they lay for that boy in every me to make him foul and get rid of him early.

Dick Finley, a veteran of several years, sometimes can't control speed at crucial moments and goes to pieces, with the opposition lying on his back.

Sounds like those conceptions of Warren's champions give them the chance on the court. No, those are minor faults on one of Heinie Lipien's classiest outfits ever to hit a local court, but when they go Farrell next Friday these infractions can either mean win or lose, cause we feel that if they ever get together, all on the same night, isn't a team in scholastic circles that can turn the tide on them.

Play Winner of Erie-Sharon Clash Friday For District 10 Honors

Warren High School's Dragons advanced one more step up the ladder of District 10 Friday night, whipping Cranberry High, Class A winner in the Sectional battle, by a 49-29 count.

Playing against a team that showed plenty of battle and height to test the locals in the big show, Warren hit a stride early in the first period and never were threatened seriously the entire tilt.

Although the Berries took an early lead when Hitchcock dropped a lay-up, the Dragons struck back hard and counted 13 points before Cranberry could offer anything to contest them.

Setting up Dick Finley and Fred Beyer in the long shot department, Warren drew out their zone defense countless times and then used Jim Eaton and Joe Scalise, both shooting from the foul line, to score. White scored first from the free stripe, counting one out of two of his throws, and on the rebound Jim Eaton recovered his second and dropped it to set off the drive that netted 15 points to Cranberry's 4 in the opening session.

Finley and Beyer sunk four goals between them from the center court, while Joe Scalise and Eaton counted for the remaining three fields. Williams, center for the A titleholders, strung up the ene-my's only other counter.

Breaking through Warren's defenses in the second stanza, Cranberry accounted for 9 points to the Dragon offering of 8. Again it was Jim Eaton, towering Warren center who kept Warren about the worry point as he tipped in two field goals in succession and was aided by Scalise and Beyer with one apiece to stem the Berry assault, moving behind three foul points and a field goal each from Williams, Bush and Annett. The locals couldn't continue their first period spurt in this quarter as Cranberry played heads-up ball and broke up their fast-moving play system, while the underdogs kept the game out of the local's ice house by side court throws that counted consistently for the number of shots they took, bringing up a half-time score of 23-13; Warren's favor.

Again it was Cranberry opening the assault in the second half when Annett dropped one right at the whistle, but Scalise countered with a one-hander. Then Charley McLean, of Warren, entered the battle line by sinking one foul throw and followed it with a two-counter. Annett came back with another one-hander, but Warren hit its blistering first period pace to follow this up with field goals from Eaton, Finley and Scalise, plus both ends of a foul by Eaton to garner 13 points for Warren against Cranberry's 8. Lailey, of the losers dropping two in the late minutes to make the cards read 36-21 at the third period marker.

Cranberry lost its cause in the last quarter when they struck back valiantly and the Blue and White knocked off every attack they could muster. Warren hit a heated pitch as every member on the starting five managed to score. Joe Scalise turning in the most with four points, while McLean added three and Eaton, Finley and Beyer dropped two apiece to add thirteen to their already overwhelming score, while Cranberry depended on three foul points and a field goal each by Annett and Bush, bringing up the final score of 49-29, Warren's favor and sending the Dragons against the winner of the Sharon-Erie East battle at Farrell next Tuesday.

Although the Blue and White faltered several times in their coping of an extra slice of the District toga, the fact that every member of the team broke into the scoring spree, may be a deciding factor in further playoff games. Eaton, Scalise and Beyer paced the winning attack with 14, 13 and 10 points respectively, while

Training Season In
Majors Opens Today

By TED MEIER

New York, March 13.—(AP)—The start of spring training officially opened baseball's third wartime season today.

Although the future is uncertain with many familiar figures in the armed services and more expected to go as the season progresses, Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, as well as Ford Frick, president of the American League, have asserted that the game will be played as long as nine men are available.

The departure of stars into the services, while reducing the quality of play, is expected by club owners to make competition. They do not look, for instance, for the St. Louis Cardinals to win the National League by 15 games

Oil Scattered By Stove Blast Fires Home

One of the best jobs done by the North Warren Fire Department since its organization was done Friday evening when the Department stopped a fire in the house owned by Paul Amann and occupied by Miss Katherine Taylor, Mrs. Louise Lamm and Mr. and Mrs. George Lesser. The fire took place about 10:45 when an oil stove exploded scattering oil over the interior of the home and threatened for a time to destroy the home. The firemen were on the scene quick with their apparatus and in a short time had the fire under control. The damage was held to a low figure.

The fire was in the apartment of Mrs. Lamm and she carried her baby down stairs and then returned to secure some valuables. Trapped by the spreading flames she was forced to leap from a second story window on her second trip and had a narrow escape from burns or injury but did not suffer any ill effects.

Howard Alexander, who carried the insurance on the property stated this morning that the loss cannot be estimated as the flames covered almost every room of the second floor and due to the fact that the oil was scattered far and wide it had a good start when the firemen arrived. The apartment of Miss Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Lesser were damaged by water. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are spending some time in the south.

This is one of the few fires that the department had had since it was formed several months ago and a truck purchased from the Rimersburg department. Joe W. Maley is chief of the department but he was in Warren at the time of the fire and Boyd Sanden, assistant chief was in charge of the fire. E. R. Burbee is president of the group and Ralph Ward is secretary. Douglas Ward chief of the State Hospital fire department is drillmaster and the company has 25 active members.

Pre-Induction Meeting Is Well Attended

Despite very short notice, forty of the selectees who are leaving Warren county this week to enter the armed forces of the country, attended the Pre-induction meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening.

Dr. Leonard Rosenzweig, psychiatrist of the state hospital, delivered the address of the evening, followed by a question and answer period. In the latter, Dr. Rosenzweig and General Secretary Ralph Wagner were ably assisted by Adolph Weissenfuh, who recently returned from the fighting in North Africa and Sicily on medical discharge.

Refreshments were supplied by the Y. M. C. A. and served by boys of the Senior and Junior Hi-Y clubs.

Sometime in the near future, invitations will go out for a Pre-induction meeting for those who last week passed their physical examinations at Erie. It is hoped to give sufficient notice to enable most of this group to make arrangements to attend.

Four of our seven pre-war aircraft carriers, the Lexington, Yorktown, Wasp and Hornet were sunk in the first year of Pacific fighting.

Life Trails Art

Once again life lags behind an artist's imagination. An elephant taking part in the annual Medinah Shrine Circus in Chicago found himself stuck, as pictured above, when he tried to leave the showplace through a narrow exit. Readers of the popular comic strip "Alley Oop" are currently worried over the fate of Dinny, Alley Oop's tame dinosaur, who has gotten himself stuck in a cave entrance, as pictured below.
